“ From Wanko to FleetGO – a Story that will go on.

After more than five decades of successful growth under the name Wanko Informationslogistik, a new chapter is now beginning. With our rebranding to FleetGO, our long-standing expertise becomes part of an international group that shares the same core values Wanko has always stood for — reliability, innovation, and closeness to our customers.

I have had the privilege of accompanying this development for many years as Managing Director, and I am proud of what we have achieved together: strong partnerships, a foundation of trust, and a team that brings passion and expertise to our customers every single day.

This step is not a break with the past, but rather a continuation under a new banner. The best of both worlds — Wanko's roots and FleetGO's dynamic drive — form the foundation for the future.

My special thanks go to all employees who have made this journey possible, as well as to our customers and partners for their trust and loyalty. Together, we have shaped Wanko — and together, we will now shape the future as FleetGO.

01 Editorial – A new Chapter

“ Innovation brought together in one brand – powering the next generation of logistics.”

Over the past decades, Wanko has developed innovative logistics software solutions with a dedicated team—solutions that help companies optimize their supply chains, digitize processes, and increase efficiency. In close collaboration with our customers, we create systems that bring transparency, reduce complexity, and drive growth.

Even though the name is changing, our commitment remains the same: we continue to stand for technological excellence, reliability, and true partnership. Our customers can trust that they will continue to benefit from proven solutions, outstanding service, and continuous innovation.

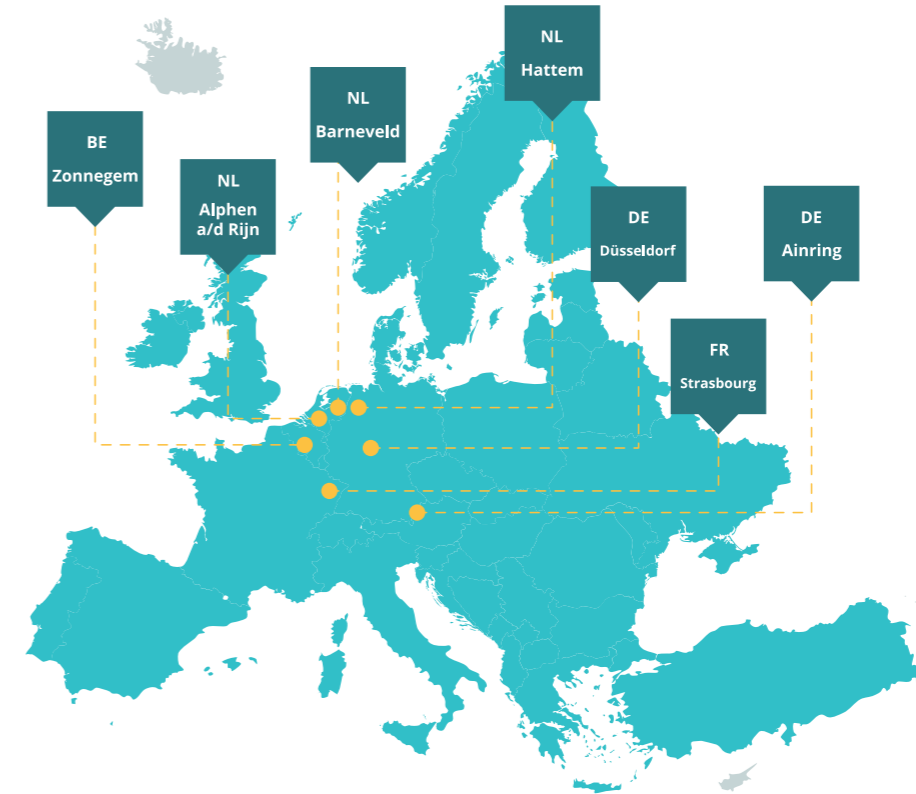

My sincere thanks go to Alexander Wanko and the entire team in Airring for their exceptional expertise, commitment, and passion for forward-looking logistics technologies. The close collaboration of recent years has shown that we already operate as one strong team. With our official unification under the FleetGO name, we are pooling our strengths and laying the foundation for the next generation of intelligent logistics software.

I look forward to continuing this journey under our shared name—together with a team that works every day to advance the digitalization of logistics processes worldwide and to deliver lasting value to our customers.

United expertise for the logistics of the future.

FleetGO brings together the strengths of established logistics software providers under one unified brand and is now a trusted partner for companies of all sizes and industries across Europe. By combining our collective experience, we not only continuously expand our portfolio, but also create new opportunities for innovation, efficiency, and sustainable growth.

With seven locations across four European countries, we combine regional strength with an international perspective. This structure enables us to stay close to our customers, identify market needs early, and develop solutions that set new standards throughout Europe.

The right solution for every logistics need, every industry, and every size of business.

Every supply chain is unique — shaped by industry-specific requirements, changing market conditions, and individual business goals. Our logistics software adapts flexibly to your processes — from procurement and production to warehousing and delivery. With our modular solutions, you can make your logistics processes smarter, faster, and more efficient.

Through seamless communication between our modules and integrated interfaces to all ERP and third-party applications you use, our Logistics Suite fits effortlessly into your existing software infrastructure. With our intelligent solutions for planning, controlling, and analyzing your logistics, you increase efficiency, reduce costs, and maximize value creation. Flexible, industry-specific, and future-proof — for logistics that grow with your business.

Transport Management

Increase the efficiency and transparency of your entire transport logistics and optimize your processes — from planning to invoicing.

Fleet Management

Our FMS provides full control and transparency over your fleet, with real-time tracking and digital connectivity for efficient transport processes.

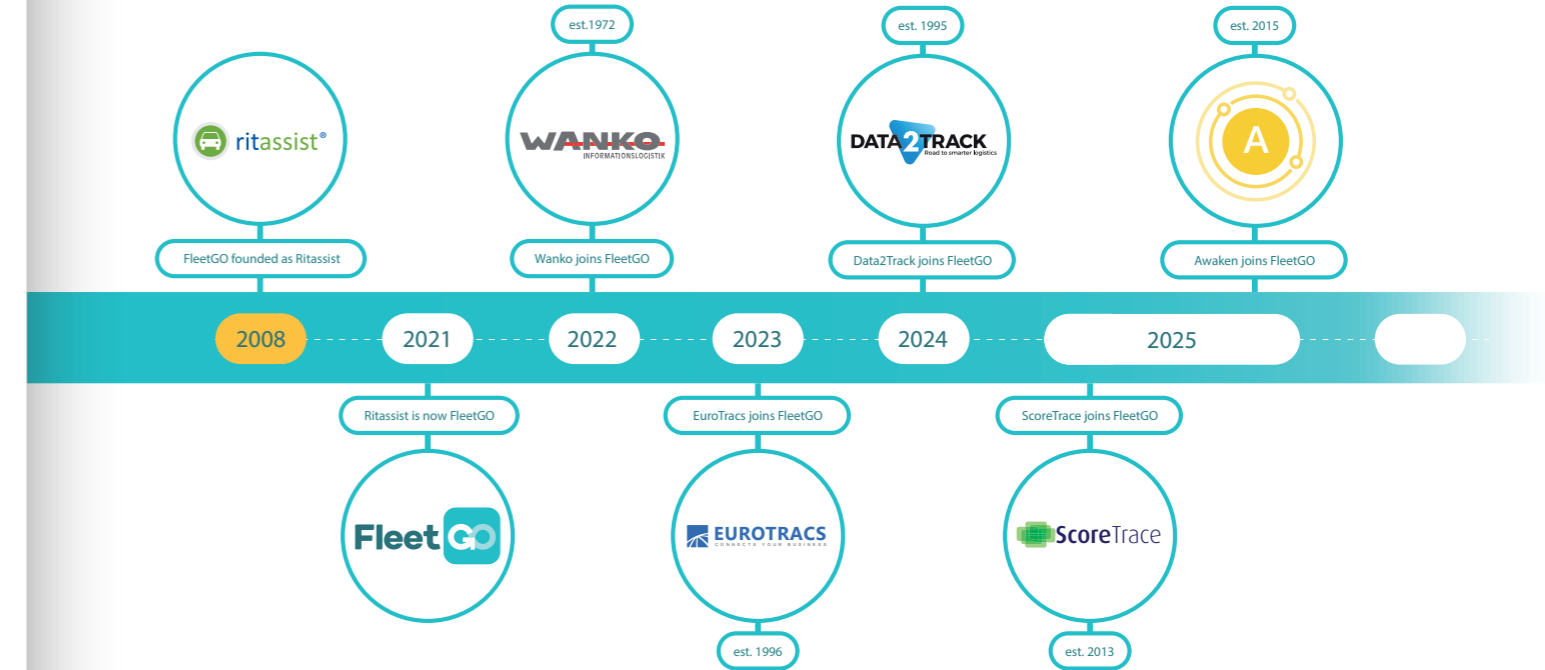

Warehouse Management

Seamlessly managed warehouse operations, automated order processing, and highly efficient material flows — from goods receipt to loading.

Specialized expertise and innovation — united in one brand.

FleetGO was founded in 2008 as Ritassist and, following the investment by Main Capital Partners in 2022, has been evolving under its new brand into a comprehensive provider of software solutions for key logistics areas through strategic acquisitions. With warehouse and transport management systems as well as fleet management and telematics solutions, FleetGO enhances and maximizes efficiency and transparency across the entire supply chain.

By combining and integrating specialized solution providers, customers benefit not only from comprehensive functionality but also from a single partner offering high scalability, rapid product development, and seamless technical integration — enabling FleetGO to deliver its full value as a central platform for modern logistics.

FleetGO Airing – New structures, shaping the future.

The organizational structure of FleetGO Airing will further strengthen the efficiency, innovative capability, and future viability of the site. For you as a customer, everything will remain as usual — your trusted contacts will continue to be available to you and will ensure reliable and collaborative partnerships in the future as well.

FAQs – Frequently asked questions.

When was Wanko officially integrated into the FleetGO brand?

Wanko was fully integrated into the FleetGO brand — both visually and in all external communications — as of December 1st, 2025.

Will anything change regarding your contracts, service scope, or terms and conditions?

No. Your existing contracts remain fully valid and unchanged. All agreed services, conditions, and deadlines continue to apply. For the time being, Wanko Informationslogistik GmbH will continue to exist unchanged within the FleetGO brand and remains your formal contractual partner. If changes are planned in the future, we will of course inform you early and proactively.

Will the brand integration affect your current projects or your points of contact?

No. All projects will continue seamlessly and exactly as agreed. Your familiar contacts remain completely unchanged.

Is it possible that your projects will be handled by another European FleetGO location in the future?

No. Your projects will continue to be managed reliably at your usual location. At the same time, we benefit from shared knowledge, resources, and synergies within the group to provide you with even better service in the future.

Will data protection continue to be ensured?

Yes. All existing data protection standards remain fully in place. Your data will continue to be processed exclusively in accordance with contractual and legal requirements. Any sharing or exchange of data within the group will only occur when necessary and legally permissible.

Will additional services or an expanded portfolio become available through the brand integration?

Yes. Over time, you will benefit from a broader range of services within the FleetGO brand — including additional expertise, specialized solutions, and new technical capabilities. We will inform you as soon as new or improved services become relevant for you.
